Union League*

31 October 1977

Dear Uncle Chet,

Thanks so much for your nice and complimentary letter. I do want to respond by saying what a treat it was to have the privilege of talking to the Union League Club and to see you and Eleanor. I really did enjoy the occasion, particularly because the questions were so sincere and to the point. It is very rewarding to feel from the question period that one has stimulated interest in his topic.

Thanks ever so much for setting it up. I hope we have a chance to see you again soon and to get Eleanor and Pat together.

All the best.

Yours,

STANSFIELD TURNER

Dear Stan,

Just a few words to tell you how very proud I was of you at our Union League Club yesterday! As you could see, the room was filled. And I hope that you told Pat about the standing ovation the audience gave you!! It came from a very sophisticated audience of business and professional leaders in their various communities. And, incidentally, it is a very rare happening at the club!

I am more than grateful to you, Stan for accepting mine and the club's invitation. Yours was a most excellent presentation in all ways!

Eleanor was more than delighted to meet you and yours and I'm sending love to Pat and you, always,

Uncle Chet

Dear Red and Nick,

Just wanted to tell you what a great time I had with Uncle Chet at his Union League Club a few days ago. Red, your Dad couldn't look better or younger or be more vital. I really had fun sitting with him at the speaker's table and visiting before lunch and his introduction of me was a classic.

It was fun and a privilege to have the chance to talk to the Union League Club. It turned out to be a very fine audience which responded with very germane questions. I was flattered by the turnout, and grateful to your Dad for putting it all together.

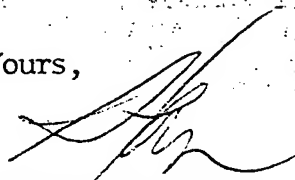

It was also great to meet Eleanor, even though we had only a fleeting opportunity to speak. She certainly looks to be the perfect and delightful complement to Uncle Chet.

As you've probably heard, Pat and I were very disappointed last August when all my plans for a leisurely visit with our family in San Diego fell apart due to some silly crisis back here in Washington. The net result was I had a brief 24 hours in San Diego. We tried to get together with Steve, but just couldn't make our schedules mesh -- he was on duty all night at the hospital. We will try again on our next visit down there.

Those Denver Broncos are really rolling. Hope you get to see them once in a while.

All the best.

Yours,

STANSFIELD TURNER

Dear Jim,

Thanks for your very nice note and compliments on my remarks to the Union League.

Let me add that, hopefully, I was exaggerating just a bit when I said that we must notify eight committees of Congress for covert action. I sincerely hope that the creation of select committees on intelligence in each house of Congress will lead to the atrophying of requests from a number of the other committees to receive this information. This has already happened on the Senate side to some extent. In short, since foreign relations and appropriations are both expressly represented on the select committees, we can hope that those committees will count on their representatives to keep them posted if necessary. In the long run it may well work out that we in effect report only to two committees. Were it not for that hope, I would share your concern very much.

I do look forward to seeing you down here when your time permits. In the meantime, it was nice to have a chance to say hello at the Union League.

All the best.

Yours,

Dear Stan:

You spoke before an unusually demanding audience which found your remarks and your answers to questions unusually intelligent and responsive.

It was good to see you again, good to hear what you had to say about your new, vitally important responsibilities.

I am delighted to see the CIA in such competent hands, and that you are so fully aware of the need to work with the Congress in terms of overall oversight. I do hope, however, that in due course you or someone will be able to persuade the Congress to revise the rules on authorizing covert activities. It is my melancholy conclusion, after six years in the bull pen, that any highly secret operation that requires notifying the full membership of eight committees is destined never to take place.

One of these days I shall be taking the liberty of calling you to see if it would be possible for me to get together with you on some future visit to Washington.

With best personal regards.

Sincerely,

Dear Ron and Valerie,

Pat and I both appreciated your very generous note and your kind words on the "Sixty Minutes" show. That was fun doing and I think it turned out as well or better than we could have hoped. We are going to do another one in September with NBC - as you can imagine, we are besieged with requests now that we have broken the ice.

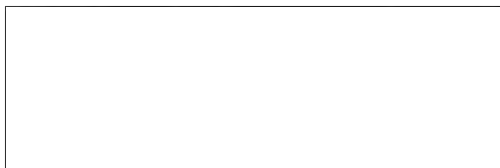

We were sorry we couldn't see you when you were in Washington. I have thought I've had busy jobs before, but this one tops them all. Perhaps one of these days I'll get on top of it and be more efficient! I'll be giving a talk at the Union League Club in New York at noon on October 5th, and to the Council on Foreign Relations that afternoon at 5 p.m. If you happen to be at either one, perhaps we could say hello. In the meantime, Pat joins me in sending our best to both of you.

Dear Stan:

Following on our earlier correspondence, I want to explore with you an idea which I hope you will find acceptable.

Every year during the Christmas college vacation, the Council holds a meeting to which members may bring their college age sons and daughters. The purpose is to expose young people to the kind of intellectual climate which exists at the Council. It also gives them access to people they usually do not have the opportunity to meet. The thought occurred to me that in view of the crisis in confidence which has developed over the years between younger Americans and the intelligence community, you might want to be our annual speaker for the occasion. A topic related to the role of intelligence in an open society would perhaps be an appropriate one for the meeting.

Please let me know if you would consider this invitation favorably. This meeting is usually held during the last week in December.

With kind regards,

Sincerely,

Guest of Honor and Speaker

ADMIRAL STANSFIELD TURNER

Director of Central Intelligence

"Secrecy and Morality in Intelligence"

One of President Carter's Cabinet level appointments that has been most generally approved by the country has been his naming Adm. Stansfield Turner as Director of Central Intelligence. The CIA has been the subject of much controversy in recent years, and Adm. Turner has the difficult and extremely important job of restoring to the Central Intelligence Agency the degree of public confidence it must have to operate efficiently.

At a Public Affairs Luncheon on October 5, 1977 ULC members and their guests will have an opportunity to meet Adm. Turner and to hear directly from him an account of the present status of CIA and his plans for its future. There will, as usual, be a question and answer session after the talk.

Adm. Turner is native of Highland Park, Ill. He was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1946, then entered Oxford College as a Rhodes Scholar for work on a master's degree in philosophy, politics and economics. He held a variety of sea assignments, was promoted to Rear Admiral in 1970, and then assumed command of a Carrier Task Group of the U. S. 6th Fleet. He served as president of the Naval War College for two years, then in 1974 became Commander of the U. S. Second Fleet and the NATO Striking Force Atlantic. In 1975 he was made Commander in Chief, Allied Forces Southern Europe, at which time he was promoted to the rank of Admiral.

Members are urged to make reservations promptly for the Luncheon. The speaker will begin promptly at 1:15 pm, following luncheon at 12:30. If it is desired to have guests' names on the seating list, please furnish names prior to October 3.

For reservations, please return the enclosed card.

Public Affairs Luncheon — October 5, 1977

Guest of Honor and Speaker

Adm. Stansfield Turner

Date: 29 June 1977

TO: DCI
FROM: John
SUBJECT: New York Trip 5 October 1977

REMARKS:

For 5 Oct trip to NYC you indicated you would prefer to speak to Council on Foreign Relations rather than Harvard Business School Association. We called Harvard Business School Assoc. - told them due to schedule conflict you would be unable to meet with them on 5 October but were planning on a trip to NYC in early December (address Economic Club)- early December is amenable with them. Then called Council of Foreign Relations - they are overjoyed with 5 Oct, attached letter will confirm for them.

NYC, 5 Oct trip will then be:

1200 - 1400 Union League Lunch/Address/Q&A

1715 - 1830 Council on Foreign Relations
Tea/Address/Q&A

During period 1400 - 1715 you could meet with Reps from New York Field Office as per George T's recommendation.

Recommend 7 or 14 December (Wednesdays) for next trip to NYC to address Economic Club and Harvard Business School Association

Very respectfu

REMARKS:

Attached are two letters for your signature for NYC Trip 5 Oct 77. We had hoped to include the New York Council on Foreign Relations. We have informed them you will probably be making a trip to New York City in December (to address Economic Club), December is fine with them. No firm commitment yet.

Proposed schedule for 5 Oct trip:

~ 1030 Depart WN Airport
~ 1200 Arrive Kennedy Airport
1230-1430 Luncheon, address Union League

Dear Stan:

Following on our earlier correspondence, I want to explore with you an idea which I hope you will find acceptable.

Every year during the Christmas college vacation, the Council holds a meeting to which members may bring their college age sons and daughters. The purpose is to expose young people to the kind of intellectual climate which exists at the Council. It also gives them access to people they usually do not have the opportunity to meet. The thought occurred to me that in view of the crisis in confidence which has developed over the years between younger Americans and the intelligence community, you might want to be our annual speaker for the occasion. A topic related to the role of intelligence in an open society would perhaps be an appropriate one for the meeting.

Please let me know if you would consider this invitation favorably. This meeting is usually held during the last week in December.

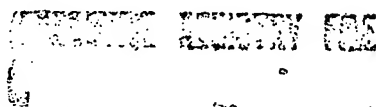

With kind regards,

Sincerely,

Zygmunt

Dear Stan:

Your appearance on "Face the Nation" yesterday once again whetted my appetite. Could we firm up a date to have you visit the Council sometime next October-November so that we could have a date reserved on both of our calendars?

The formulating of a subject and other logistics we can leave until a later date.

Dear Ron and Valerie,

Pat and I both appreciated your very generous note and your kind words on the "Sixty Minutes" show. That was fun doing and I think it turned out as well or better than we could have hoped. We are going to do another one in September with NBC - as you can imagine, we are besieged with requests now that we have broken the ice.

We were sorry we couldn't see you when you were in Washington. I have thought I've had busy jobs before, but this one tops them all. Perhaps one of these days I'll get on top of it and be more efficient! I'll be giving a talk at the Union League Club in New York at noon on October 5th, and to the Council on Foreign Relations that afternoon at 5 p.m. If you happen to be at either one, perhaps we could say hello. In the meantime, Pat joins me in sending our best to both of you.

Yours,

STANSFIELD TURNER

Dear Admiral Turner:

I have just received the announcement for your remarks at the Council on Foreign Relations in New York on Wednesday, October 5th. There is a chance that I may be in Manhattan on business that week; if so, I will be sure to be in attendance that afternoon. It would be good to see you again.

Recent discussions of the role of the DCI seem to have caused at least as much heat as light around Washington and have made you a somewhat controversial figure. I for one feel that you are going about the job in just the right manner. I also subscribe to what I sense from afar to be your vision of the larger responsibility within the intelligence community which should define the Director's role.

Keep fighting the good fight. I know that you will. It would be a pleasure to see you again in New York or Washington before too long.

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Steven B. Pfeiffer

Dear Steve,

How nice to hear from you again. I particularly appreciate your nice words on the way I am going about this fascinating but controversial job. It's quite different from my Navy life, but a very thrilling opportunity.

I do hope we can see each other at least briefly in New York. If not, there is some possibility I will be speaking in Houston next February or March. We are in the midst of some planning in that direction. I'll let you know.

Again, thanks and all the best.

I understand that you will be coming up on the 5th of October for a late afternoon appearance at the Council which I am planning to attend. Victoria and I thought if you were not staying for a dinner at the Council, perhaps you and Pat and we could plan something, either dinner, the theatre or both and have a chance to catch up. I realize how hectic your schedule is but since you were going to be here anyway, I thought I would put in my oar. If that proves impossible, I will at least greatly enjoy the chance to hear you and say hello.

My sincere best wishes for your stewardship there.

Dear John,

Thanks so much for your most thoughtful note. I indeed wish that I could stay over on the night of the 5th for a dinner with you and Victoria. Unfortunately, I am flying out almost immediately after the talk at the Council on Foreign Relations because I have another talk with a breakfast group in Atlanta the following morning! I don't hit the speaking trail too often, but when I do I try to jam in a series of talks.

I will look forward to seeing you at the Council and at least having a chance to say hello again.

Many thanks, and all the best.
